Abstract: On the theoretical proposition of “survival and time”, Wang Chuanshan expressed his profound and unique ideas in a variety of books. From the structure of “qi (vital force) - xing (shape) - shen (essence)”, Wang Chuanshan argued that the survival of all people is ever renewing. Therefore, he stressed the importance of “today” and presence, claimed that man should be ever creating and ever developing (Ri-sheng-ri-dong), denoted the possibility of immanent transcendency at the every moment of life. Only in this way, could man achieve his own eternal life.
