

advancing the frontiers

Version française

2010
Instituts
pour construire
l'avenir

Spotlight on science

Press Releases

CNRS International Magazine

Publications

CNRS Institutional film

Events

16/12/2009 - At a ceremony at the Sorbonne, Valérie Pécresse, the French minister for higher education and research, awarded the CNRS Gold Medal, the highest award for scientific research in France, to Serge Haroche, physicist specializing in atomic physics and quantum optics.

02/12/2009 - CNRS research scientist recruitment: In 2010, CNRS is recruiting for 400 tenured research positions in all fields of science. Applications are available on line from 2 December 2009 to 5 January 2010.

See all events

Research News

30/12/2009 - Marseillevirus, a new member of the giant viruses

11/12/2009 - Syntax in our primate cousins

18/11/2009 - Multiferroic compounds used to produce smaller and cheaper digital...

CNRS Video Library

CNRS Photo Library

People Finder

How to find a lab