

QUICKMENU

- Statistics
- Energy Technology Perspectives
- Energy Technology Agreements
- G8/G20 Related Work
- Environment
- Free Newsletters
- Contact us

WEBSITES

- Oil Market Report
- World Energy Outlook
- IEA in Chinese
国际能源署中文网页
- Russian site
(Главная страница на русском)
- Bookshop

AT A GLANCE

- What is the IEA?
- Member Countries
- Shared Goals
- FAQ
- Executive Office
- Employment at IEA
- Address and Map
- Did you know?
- Oil Stocks

Find us on Facebook

Latest Information

Potential for closer IEA co-operation with Mexico

19 January 2010

IEA Deputy Executive Director Richard Jones met with Mexican Energy Secretary Georgina Kessel Martinez on Tuesday, 12 January, in Mexico City to discuss existing and potential future areas of collaboration between the IEA and the Mexican energy ministry (SENER), read more...

Mr. Tanaka talks with EU energy business leaders and climbs the largest solar tower

15 January 2010

IEA Executive Director Nobuo Tanaka delivered a keynote presentation at the EU energy business leaders meeting, "Energy Sustainability Policies: The European Challenge," in Seville, Spain on 14 January. Mr. Tanaka's presentation covered a wide range of issues, including the IEA's 450 ppm climate scenario, read more...

IEA hosts Energy Efficiency Week 25-29 January

14 January 2010

Energy efficiency experts and policymakers from around the world will convene at the IEA the last week of January to participate in the following four meetings:

- Energy Efficiency Working Party: <http://www.iea.org/about/eewp.asp>
- International Partnership for Energy Efficiency Cooperation: <http://ipeecshare.org>
- End Use Working Party: <http://www.iea.org/about/euwp.asp>
- Energy Management Action Network Workshop: <http://sites.google.com/site/emakbiz/>

IEA Looks Forward after Copenhagen

13 January 2010

IEA Executive Director Nobuo Tanaka and Head of the IEA Climate Change Unit Richard Baron present Agency views on the outcome of Copenhagen and its implications for future IEA work. Click here.

See all...

In the Press

The Wall Street Journal, 11 January 2010
Pledges to cut emissions fall short
Although a number of countries at the UN climate talks in Copenhagen pledged emissions cuts to curb greenhouse gas emissions and limit global temperature increase from climate change, IEA Chief Economist Fatih Birol read more ...

Marketwire, 16 December 2009
Importance of energy efficiency in buildings
Speaking at a webcast event designed to promote a dialogue about energy efficiency at the UN climate change conference in Copenhagen, the Head of the IEA Energy Efficiency Unit Nigel Jollands said read more ...

Europolitics Energy, 2 December 2009
EU Emission Trading System (ETS) Pilot Phase Cut Emissions
At seminar at the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS) in Washington, DC, IEA Energy and Environment Analyst Barbara Buchner gave a positive assessment of the EU ETS in the 2005-2007 pilot phase, read more ...

The Straits Times, 1 December 2009
Energy Efficiency Easiest Way to Cut CO2 Emissions
Speaking on the margins of a sustainable energy conference in Singapore, IEA Energy Efficiency and Environment Division head Rick Bradley said that efforts to use new energy technologies are hampered by businesses' reluctance read more ...

See all

Latest Press Releases

14 December 2009 -- Copenhagen
IEA urges all governments to send a strong signal to spur new investment for clean energy

8 December 2009 -- Paris
Cities can take the lead in renewable energy and show national governments the way

See all

Latest TV Interview & Video

14 December 2009
IEA Executive Director Nobuo Tanaka talks to Clean Skies News from the UN Climate Change Conference in Copenhagen about the Agency's current climate goals
Source: Clean Skies News
Click here for the video...

See all

Upcoming Events & Workshops

14 January 2010, Web Conference on the CCS Outcomes from Copenhagen

7 December 2009, Round Table on Long-term Energy Outlooks

See all

For Delegates

IEA at COP 15

See the Energy Efficiency Website here

Opinion Leaders comment on WEO

World Energy Outlook 2009

Global Analysis of Low-Carbon Technology R&D Spending Needs

Winter Gas Trade Flows in Europe

IEA Training

KEY WORLD ENERGY STATISTICS 2009