John Macomber is a Senior Lecturer in Real Estate at Harvard Business School. His professional background includes leadership of real estate, construction, services, and technology businesses. He is the former Chairman and CEO of the George B H Macomber Company, a large regional general contractor and a principal in several real estate partnerships in Massachusetts. At HBS, Mr. Macomber teaches Finance and Real Property courses in the elective curriculum including, "Real Property Asset Management," "Real Estate Development, Design, and Construction," and "Sustainable Cities: Urbanization, Infrastructure, and Finance." He is part of the teaching team for the "Building Green Businesses" Field Study Seminar. Mr. Macomber also teaches "Real Estate Sustainability, Strategy, and Finance" at the Harvard Design School. Prior to coming to HBS, John was a lecturer at MIT in Civil Engineering and Real Estate. He is chair or co-chair of Executive Education programs including "Real Estate Management," "Real Estate Executive Seminar," and "Develop India: Real Estate Strategies for Growth." In the community, John is active with Young Presidents Organization (YPO), Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, the Appalachian Mountain Club, and Mount Auburn Hospital. He serves on the boards of Boston Private Bank and Vela Systems.
