After 14 years of endless efforts, China has achieved agreements with almost all the 37 World Trade Organization (WTO) members, which requested to have bilateral negotiations with China. Both the Congress and the Senator of the United States have also voted to grant China the Permanent Normal Trade Relation (PNTR) status, removing another hurdle of China's accession to WTO. It is most likely that China will be admitted to the WTO by the end of this year or early next year.
