Article On the Industrialization of Small Towns in Pakistan

Author Imtiazuddin Husain and Tanvir Kiyani

Abstract Migration to large metropolitan cities in Pakistan from rural areas and small towns has put enormous pressure on those cities and created many socio-economic and demographic problems. This article suggests that, in conjunction with other steps, many smaller towns should be developed and industrialized to ease the pressure on the larger cities, as has been done in other areas of the world.
