Article Trends in Fertility and Mortality in Fiji Based on the 1986 Census

Author Bhakta Gubhaju and Naibuka Navunisaravi

Abstract This article examines the trends in fertility and mortality based on the 1986 census. Results from the earlier censuses and vital registration are also drawn to compare with the 1986 census. The data show that Fiji has undergone a rapid transition in fertility and mortality over the last two decades. The article provides total fertility rates, expectations of life at birth, and infant mortality rates for both Fijians and Indians.
