

Life online and off

As part of the connected generation, Harvard students are seldom far from their technology. Offline activities also abound, as bulletin boards full of flyers attest.

SCHOOLS OF HARVARD

- |                                      |                                     |
|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Business             | Engineering         |
| College              | Government          |
| Continuing Education | Graduate School     |
| Dental               | Law                 |
| Design               | Medical             |
| Divinity             | Public Health       |
| Education            | Radcliffe Institute |

Events
Research
Multimedia

April 8, 2008

Less sleep, more TV linked to overweight infants, toddlers

Louise Ivers: A higher purpose in Haiti

In Other News

Jeremy R. Knowles, 1935 - 2008

Laser precision added to search for new Earths

For Harvard College, record pool leads to record-low admission rate

Harvard Gazette | Recent News |
RSS |