Language Museum

Welcome to the Language Museum!

The Language Museum is a linguistic website which offers the samples of 2000 languages in the world. Every sample includes 4 parts: (1) a sample image, (2) an English translation, (3) the speaking countries and populations, (4) the language's family and branch.

The Language Museum is constructed and maintained by Zhang Hong, an internet consultant and amateur linguist in Beijing China.

Together with the information on these 2,000 languages, you can also find information on Language Schools throughout the world where to learn languages like Spanish, French, Italian, German, Portuguese and English.

To experience the best "Stag Weekends" in the world, visit Red7Leisure, which are established in the UK and have been operating for the last 10 years.

To find the best Mobile Phones for your school trip, just visit the OneStopPhoneShop.
