

Welcome to History of Art at York

The Department of History at Art at York is an internationally recognised and rapidly expanding centre for study and research, offering world-class expertise in the history of Western art and architecture.

Undergraduate and postgraduate students enjoy an extremely rich variety of choices and specialisations. Members of the department teach and research art-historical topics that range from the medieval period to the present, and that demonstrate an especially diverse and lively set of approaches to the subject.

Students also benefit from our famously friendly atmosphere, small-group teaching methods, regular study trips and spectacular historic location.

In the National Student Surveys of 2006 and 2007, no less than 100% of our respondents expressed overall satisfaction with their course. The department's status as one of the very best in the UK has recently been confirmed by the The Times Survey of 2006/7.
