LATEST APA NEWS

Top Audie Honors go to the classics this year – Graham Greene’s The End of the Affair takes Audiobook of the Year while Dracula wins for Distinguished Achievement in Production.

New York, NY – May 30, 2013 – The Audio Publishers Association (APA) announced the winners of the 2013 Audie Awards® at its 18th Annual Audies Gala on May 30th at The New-York Historical Society. Often referred to as the “Oscars of spoken word entertainment,” a gathering of authors, narrators and publishers gathered to hear who would win the most prestigious awards in the United States honoring audiobooks.

Michele Cobb President of the APA had this to say about tonight’s event, “Another great night, another great year, another great list of winners. As the industry grows and thrives we reach new heights of visibility, quality and enthusiasm for the format – all reflected in every one of tonight’s nominees and winners!”

Author Daniel Handler hosted the event. As a longtime friend of the audiobook community, Handler has narrated the audiobooks for three consecutive books in his famous Lemony Snicket series --A Series of Unfortunate Events. Of being asked to emcee The Audies® Handler said “At long last I get to combine my two great loves: audiobooks and hogging the spotlight.” In addition to his bestselling A Series of Unfortunate Events series written under the pseudonym Lemony Snicket, Handler is the author of the literary novels The Basic Eight, Watch Your Mouth, and Adverbs.
