

Journal of Geophysical Research, Volume 117, 2012. This page contains a list of articles with their titles, authors, and publication details. The articles cover various topics in geophysics, including atmospheric science, oceanography, and planetary science. The list is organized by volume and issue, with each entry providing a brief summary of the article's content and its authors. The page is a standard academic reference list, providing a comprehensive overview of the research published in this journal during the specified period.

