Abstract. The garden of Expo2011 Xi'an located in Guangyuntan in Chanba Ecological district of Xi'an, Yanan garden is a garden built up by Yanan governor, It stand on available land on the slopes. With consideration of particular climatic and geological condition of the site, the design not only combine the life with nature, but also Chinese garden with Western principles of landscape .Yanan garden express the basic mode of people and nature in shanbei of Shannxi province.

Introduction

As one of regional gardens of International Horticultural Exposition 2011, Yan'an Garden strives to rationally arrange featured ecological mode and vegetative landscape of Northern Shaanxi in a certain space, exhibiting the city and environmental characteristics of Yan'an, where is the location of the Mausoleum of Yellow Emperor and Hukou Waterfall of Yellow River, and reputed as the holy land of Chinese nation and Chinese revolution, to the world.

With diversified featured plants and based on the existing terrain, the garden makes use of ecological potential of the site to integrate the city prototype and habitat unit into the natural network of the garden. The expo garden [1] expresses the organic combination of conception in Chinese traditional landscape garden art and the modern design methods, making the basic mode of harmonious coexistence between human and nature in Northern Shaanxi reappear in the limited site, and the conception of integrating garden art into living scenes, which makes tourists experience the harmonious relationship between human and nature during sightseeing and rest [2] .

Background of Yan'an park

The park, located at the center of Chanba Ecological District in Xi'an, a culturally well-known city, enjoys convenient traffic network with Expo Boulevard, East 3rd Ring, East Binhe Road (Figure1,2,3). The Yan'an Park is located near the ring road of the park which lies in the east side of the main entrance of the exposition garden, the terrain is high in the west and low in the east, the gradient is around 5%, the base is 51 meters long and 20 meters wide, there are Yulin Park and Weinan Park at each side of the base, and there are three-meter-wide green belt areas between these three parks. 50 meters north of the base lies the Expo Boulevard, seeing from the Expo Boulevard, the base is clearly visible. The south side of the base features excellent position, neighboring the seven-meter main ring road.
