Agric. Econ. – Czech

Jeníček V., Grófová Š: Least developed countries – comparison

Agric. Econ. – Czech, 60 (2014): 99-109

The inter-related causes of food insecurity in these countries are mainly the long lasting civil wars, a limited access to land, environmental degradation, climatic shocks and the rapid population growth resulting from the high birth rates and the return of refugees.

Keywords:

economic situation, international trade, foreign direct investments, official development assistance, remittances, indicators of health
