

MILTON H. FISHER

1892 — 1948

A skillful orthodontist to whom his patients stand in testimony of his abilities, rich in the esteem of his associates and the warm affection of his friends, Milton H. Fisher, to whom this issue of THE ANGLE ORTHODONTIST is dedicated.

Obituary

DR. MILTON H. FISHER
1892 — 1948

Dr. Milton H. Fisher of Tacoma, Washington, died suddenly in Seattle Saturday afternoon, November 6, at the age of 56 — a victim of a heart attack.

Dr. Fisher and his wife were on their way to the Oregon-Washington football game in Seattle. He complained of not feeling well, and instead of going to the game they went to the home of his friend, Dr. Paul Lewis. He passed away soon after their arrival.

Dr. Fisher was affectionately called Milt by his many friends. His entrance into the practice of Orthodontics was in 1919 when he became associated with me in Portland, Oregon. He started his practice in Tacoma, Washington, in 1922.

Milt was a perfectionist. Nothing short of the best possible result was his goal, and he was a constant seeker of a better understanding of Orthodontics in order that he could render the best service possible to his patients. Those of us in the Pacific Northwest who had the opportunity of seeing his completed cases recognized his unusual ability. No wonder then that his advice and help was eagerly sought by all of us.

Milt was the secretary-treasurer of the Dr. Charles Tweed Seminar of Tucson, Arizona, also serving as one of the instructors, and was a member of our Pacific Northwest Tweed Study Club. He was a member of the Pacific Coast Society of Orthodontists, the American Association of Orthodontists and the Pacific Northwest Component of the Edward H. Angle Society of Orthodontists, the local State and National Dental Associations, the University Club of Tacoma and the Xi Psi Phi Fraternity. Members of these scientific and social organizations are keenly aware of their loss in his passing.

In tribute to a truly great Orthodontist Dr. Alton Moore, Professor of Orthodontics of the University of Washington in Seattle, is dedicating a room in the Orthodontic Department as a memorial to Milton Fisher.

Milt greatly enjoyed his beautiful home overlooking Puget Sound. Its door was ever open to his many friends. Here one could always be sure of a sincere welcome by Milt and his gracious wife, Gladys. Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to her.

William R. Dinham